

As part of the just ended Global Data Privacy Week, we were pleased to host the Data Protection Commissioner, Mr. Likando Luywa for an insightful engagement on the importance of protecting personal data and the role the regulator plays in this. The session reinforced the need for transparent and responsible handling of personal information and highlighted the shared role organisations, individuals, and regulators play in safeguarding privacy. We appreciate the Commission's continued support and remain committed to working with them to make sure data remains safe and secure.
